

Please do not change Wisconsin's "No Call Law". When I come home from work, I don't want to be bothered by someone trying to sell me something. When called by a telemarketer, you are forced to be rude to get them off the phone, because of course they do not take no for an answer. If I want their service, I will call them. If I do not know about their service, then it must not be a need in my life. The greatest part of the "No Call Law" is the peace of mind it gives me regarding my elderly relatives. Knowing that someone is not calling and taking advantage of their generosity is wonderful. Please do not make any changes to that law. It is one piece of legislation that actually works.
